

AHC Healthcare Receivables Management Expands West Coast Operations

AHC Healthcare Receivables Management will open the doors to its newest office in Fresno, California, on October 23rd. The new location will allow for extended reimbursement services to healthcare providers located in the western states.

Manassas, VA (PRWeb) October 9, 2006 -- On October 23rd, AHC Healthcare Receivables Management will expand their West Coast operations as the doors open to their new office in Fresno, California. The office is located at 2550 West Shaw Avenue, the former site of Grubb & Ellis Pearson Commercial. The 12,600 sq. ft. building is designed to accommodate 125 employees, almost three times more than their previous location across the street.

“This is a very exciting time for us,” explains Vickie Clark, Vice President of Operations for AHC. “The San Joaquin Valley is unique in that it is the center of a strong healthcare based industry. It makes perfect sense to position ourselves where we regularly conduct business.”

With over 500 employees, 100 of which are healthcare attorneys, AHC provides accounts receivable management solutions and complimentary educational offerings to help hospitals maximize reimbursement. Operating out of 6 locations, AHC opened their first California office in 2004 and quickly reached a full capacity of 50 employees.

“We are looking forward to our continued growth and development in the Fresno business community,” says Clark. “When we opened our first office, we were able to quickly recruit an experienced staff. Now, with our 125 person capacity and the new office’s unique call center environment, our goal is to build on our existing staff to enhance operations for our clients in the West.”
