

-Couples kiss to win One Million Dollars on KISSING.TV in “The Million Dollar Kissing Contest”

Los Angeles, CA (PRWeb) February, 13, 2008 -- What could be sweeter than sharing some kisses with a loved one? How about sharing One Million Dollars? In honor of Valentine’s Day, KISSING.TV has officially launched the “The Million Dollar Kissing Contest” at www.TheMillionDollarKissingContest.com.

KISSING.TV is a social website designed for web-goers to meet new people, celebrate romance and bring originality to the age-old “Art of Kissing” by sharing kissing videos and photos online. Participants enter the contest by submitting videos that have anything to do with kissing. The person (or couple) that has the most popular video by the end of the contest will win $1,000,000. Advertising and sponsorships on the site generate the prize money. There are rules and regulations though – for example, all kissing should be kept above the belt.

Entering is as easy as one, two three.

- Step one: Create an original video that has anything to do with kissing
- Step two: Follow the guidelines on KISSING.TV.
- Step three: Upload the video to KISSING.TV and YouTube.com and the video with the most views wins one million dollars.

One of the first contest entrants, Romeo E. Barcena, has already generated well over 100,000 views on YouTube with his entry video:
